

Approval Force Marge

This Approval Force Marge menu will combine two CRNs into one.

In this menu there are two views to display GC data that have different CRNs, in this force marge process the system will combine the original data that has the same CRN as the GC CRN and will be combined with some selected data. For the results that will be obtained, namely some data that have different CRNs will have the same CRN after the approval process, and the system will determine which CRN will be used.

To pass the approval, you can click the tick icon in the GC view, and for rejected you can click the cross icon in the GC view.
